Part III DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: RCE and amendment entered on July 1, 2002 to the application filed 8/8/97, which is a FWC of the application Ser. No. 09/378,819, filed 1/27/95.
2. Claims 62-86 are pending in this case. Claims 62, 76, 77, and 86 are independent claims.

Priority

3. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. § 119, which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371⁶ of this title 5. Claims 62-72, 76-82 and 86 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bonomi, U.S. Pat. No. 5,577,191, 11/96 (filed 2/94).
before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

As per independent claim 62, Bonomi discloses the following claimed elements of a moving image editing apparatus:

- input means and decoding means for decoding encoded moving image data encoded by an encoding method that includes encoding using interframe correlation to an intraframe encoded moving image (col.2, line 54, "The video compression circuit ...compress the video data ...using both interframe and intraframe algorithm ...[and the] video decompression circuit decompresses intraframe-only compressed video data to allow editing");

- encoding means for intraframe coding the decoded moving image data and storing the intraframe encoded image data (col.4, line 25, "...in FIG.2, intraframe-only compressed video data is retrieved from storage" shows that the data have been stored.);

~~- editing means for decoding the image data which was stored in said storing means and~~ intraframe encoded, and for performing an arbitrary editing on the encoded image data (col.2, line 57, "intraframe-only compressed video data ...allow video editing to occur in the host processor."); and

- second encoding means for encoding the edited image data by an encoded method that includes encoding in which the interframe correlation is considered (col.2, line 59, "When the video editing is complete, the videothe video compression circuit to compress the video data using both intraframe and interframe algorithm.").

As per dependent claims 63-64, Bonomi teaches designating a picture for editing (col.3, lines 1-10)

As per dependent claims 65-69, Bonomi teaches encoding the images in MPEG, which contains the predetermined number of intra-coded pictures (see col.1, lines 25+, "the standard is the MPEG...") and JPEG (col.1, lines 40-45)

As per dependent claim 72, Bonomi discloses an edition in a time base direction between frames (col.1, line 52, "Typical editing activities include special effects, titling, mixing, fades and wipes...").

As per dependent claim 70 and 71, Bonomi discloses displaying the decoded image data (col.3, line 52, "...decompressed the video data to display the video images on display").

Claims 76-82 and 86 recite substantially similar limitations as claims 62-72, and are similarly rejected under the same rationale.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103 which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person.

7. Claims 73-75 and 83-85 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over Bonomi in view of Nguyen, U.S. Pat. No. 5,404,437, 4/95 (filed 11/92).

As per dependent claims 73-75, Bonomi teaches the editing features of insertion and deletion of number of pictures. However, Nguyen discloses animation images displayed in multi-screen displays that are obtained by reducing the frame images (FIG.9 and col.9, lines 15-30). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have combined the teachings of Nguyen and Bonomi, since Nguyen taught the specific features of editing animation frames, and Bonomi explicitly suggested performing animation frame editions (col.1, line 52, "editing activities include special effects ..."). Nevertheless, Bonomi teaches the editing activities including "mixing, fades and wipes" (col.1, line 52), which require manipulating the number of pictures. Therefore, the features would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in view of Bonomi's suggestions.

Claims 83-85 recite substantially similar limitations as claims 73-75, and are similarly rejected under the same rationale.

Response to Amendment

8. Applicant's arguments filed July 1, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

On page 8 of the amendment, Applicant notes that "the issue of whether Bonomi can be removed as a reference by the JP '083 priority document is moot" in view of the new amendment. Then with respect to the amended claims 62, 76, 77 and 86, Applicant asserts that Bonomi fails to teach or suggest the feature of "decoding the input encoded image data, with encoded image data including intra-picture encoded image data and inter-picture encoded image data."

However, this argument is not persuasive. Note that Bonomi in column 5, line 35 teaches that "In the implementation described above, MPEG intraframe decoding ...can be performed." Since col.1, lines 26, Bonomi notes that "[w]ithin the MPEG standard intraframe ...[and] interframe compression within the video sequence is accomplished", Bonomi teaches decoding the image data which contains both interpicture and intrapicture coded data.
